

DANIEL LIPPE
Managing Partner, Petral Consulting Company

Daniel Lippe is managing Partner of Petral Consulting Company. Mr. Lippe provides short term & long term market & budget planning support via ongoing market analysis and price forecast retainer consulting services for natural gas, crude oil & refined products, natural gas liquids and other petrochemical feeds, and primary petrochemicals including ethylene, propylene, butadiene, benzene, toluene, and xylenes.

Mr. Lippe also prepares proprietary studies on a wide variety of topics involving the full range of natural gas & petroleum products. The geographic scope of these studies range from a few railroad districts (e.g. analysis of NGL markets in Eagle Ford) to global propane and butane markets.

Additionally, Dan conducts educational seminars for people who are new to midstream or the petrochemical industry. He has a BS in Chemical Engineering from Texas A&M and a MBA from Houston Baptist University.
